Barn Quilt Painting

If you heard the words “barn quilt” and immediately envisioned a wonderful quilt with rural barn designs.... think again. This is a quilt design painted on the side of a barn. Assemble several barns in one community with these designs and you have a barn quilt trail. Over 20 states and two Canadian provinces offer barn quilt trails.

Suzi Parron travels North America in her RV, photographs barn quilts, and interviews the owners. Along the way she teaches workshops on designing and painting your own barn quilt. After a one-day workshop you will have a completed 2 by 2-foot board that is suitable for hanging.

Sue's Scraps

On August 10, 2019, Suzi will be in our area. Please join us for a fun day painting at Sequim Grange. Suzi will prepare your board for painting and you will need to bring a minimal number of tools to complete the piece. For this event we would like to encourage members to invite a young person to join you. If you have a grandchild, relative or young friend between the ages of 8 and 18 years of age, please include them. There will be no extra charge for the "helper" on this project.

First Steppers

How many of the groups under the umbrella of Sunbonnet Sue Quilt Club are you aware of? One group, the Frosty Flakes is also known as First Steppers when working on items for First Step. Club members joined recently cutting and sewing piles of “burp pads” for that organization. The pads are an often-requested item by new mothers. First Steppers also make pull-up pants, pajamas, dresses, receiving blankets, “tummy time” quilts, bibs, crayon aprons, and comfort animals.

First Step is a WA State Dept of Social and Health Services program, headquartered in Port Angeles, which opened their doors in 1972. In 2018 they touched the lives of 5,415 individuals by providing maternity support, parenting education, home-visiting programs, advocacy, support groups, and access to vital health and safety information and supplies. All of the programs are free or paid for by Medicaid.

Heading the group is Marilyn Williams. Marilyn moved to Sequim in 2008 from San Jose, CA and she continued to work from home for Lockheed Martin as a Human Resources Manager specializing in employee investigations. She retired in 2010 after twenty-three years with Lockheed.

Looking for ways to become involved in the community, she joined the American Sewing Guild (ASG) and SBSQ. Marilyn heard about First Step from a sister ASG member whose mother actively supported the organization. After a tour of the First Step facility, Marilyn became aware of the needs and asked the Frosty Flakes if they would be interested in helping to sew various items. The Flakes have supplied thousands of items important to these new mothers and other First Step clients. Sharon Clayton is known as the “queen” of burp pads as she has made at least 100 per year. Not to be outdone, Jayne Merchant does a mass production of bibs especially when cute kid fabric shows up on the free table.

Drop by and say hello to the group. Your help in making items or providing fabric is always welcome.

Quilters' College Recap by Helga Barton

After a number of reschedules, due to snow, we finally held Quilters' College on March 6, 2019. The event was well attended and our presenters did an excellent job of explaining new techniques to our attendees.

Irene Snodgrass covered working with difficult fabrics, which we all know can frazzle us.

Wendy Whittemore covered Machine Maintenance with her cat looking at all the fuzz in those interesting machines.

Sherry Nagel had her hands full with Tool Time. She will do a follow-up presentation of how well some of these function and what we can expect, the second Wednesday in April.

Sherry also talked about zipper work which can do more than hold up the zipper on your pants.

Anne Davies explained Rojo and how the color of red became intertwined in our lives.

Mary Syme was all about bags and has her own bag ladies following her around.

Judy Ritchey was the lucky winner of the raffle ticket quilt kit and I am sure we will see the finished product very soon. Congratulations, Judy.

Sue's Scraps

The final presentation was given by Gail Van Horsen on entering a quilt to a juried or judged quilt show.

There were door prizes for each attendee and we can thank our local and nationwide suppliers for those.

Please make sure you thank our local quilt shops, Safeway, and Costco for their generosity and making our day so much sweeter and better.

Overall, the comments were very positive and not a single person had a negative thing to say.

If you would like to sign up to become a presenter for next year, or have any suggestions for topics please let me know.

I also would like to thank my excellent team members for all their help and efforts to make this a very successful and pleasant experience: Gladis Marr, Cynthia Smith, Maureen Eaton

Check out what is happening in the library this month.

Library News

Spring cleaning is behind us and we are ready to celebrate...

April 10:

What do Elly Sienkiewicz, Freddy Moran, and Kaffe Fassett have in common? Flowers! Something new is popping up at the library: The Blue Table will be showcasing books with a common theme. This month the focus is FLORALS. Come get acquainted with many different ways to put flowers into quilts. Books from cultural, traditional, and modern subject areas will be on display.

April 17:

The Red Table Used Book Sale returns. We have some great books waiting just for you. All donations are used to purchase new material for our shelves.

April 24:

“Freebie Day”! Don’t put your Easter basket away just yet. Bring it with you and fill it with loads of free books waiting on the counter. (If you look carefully, you might find a little sweet treat to add to your basket, as well).

Your Librarians, Nancy Wilcox and Vicki Naumann

The July Quilt Show is fast approaching!!!

Heirloom Quilt Turning for the 2019 Sun Bonnet Sue Quilt Show.

Once again, this year we will have an Heirloom Quilt Turning several times during our quilt show. This event features historic or antique quilts which are displayed and expertly “turned” by members. The MC will explain about the period, fabric history and more for each quilt. This is a wonderful event. Do you have a quilt that you consider an Heirloom? Please let us show it and tell its story at our 2019 Quilt Show. The age or condition of the quilt are not what matters. The significance of the quilt to you or your family is what makes it an heirloom. Contact Gail Van Horsen for more information.

Everyone Enter a Quilt

Please remember that as new members we encourage you to enter your quilt into the quilt show. Don't be afraid to enter your quilt!

Size Limitation:

This year we are only able to accommodate large quilts that are 90" x 90" or less. The reason for this is the height of our standards. If you have any questions regarding the show or how you can help during the busiest time of the year, please contact Brianne Moores @ 360.461.3406

Quilt Challenge

The title of our Quilt Challenge for the 2019 Quilt Show is “Beatles Tribute.” Details on the SBS Website, on the Members Only page.
